

Global product information worksheet (PIW)

Tell us which FedEx Services and capabilities you'll be integrating and making available to your customers as part of your solution.

There are certain core services and capabilities, displayed in bold below, that we strongly recommend including as part of your FedEx integration for distribution in the Americas region. Our customers will typically require availability of these services and capabilities.

This worksheet isn't a specifications document - and does not contain all the possible fields that your development team can use. Be sure to reference the documentation on the FedEx Developer Portal for specifications.

We also recommend using our Best Practice Guide to support your development and to ensure efficient gathering of information.

API guidance

To provide a complete user experience, certain APIs need to be used together. e.g. the Trade Document Upload API needs to be implemented when implementing the Ship API, Consolidation API, or OpenShip API to provide a complete international shipping experience.

Other recommended APIs to use are the Address Validation API, Comprehensive Rates & Transit Times API, and Locations Search API (e-commerce)

We advise against hard coding FedEx business logic and values. Instead, implement a data-driven design approach using the relevant APIs to apply FedEx business logic and obtain the correct values.

For example, by using the Service Availability API to retrieve the services available for the origin and destination pair — instead of hard coding all of this into your solution — you can ensure the specific arrangements of the applicable customer contract with FedEx are considered. This is a practice that helps keep your solution agile and minimizes impacts to customer experience when FedEx makes changes to the territorial scope of existing services or introduces new services.

Which APIs do you want to use? Please select your chosen APIs from the following list:

We recommend using the Comprehensive Rates & Transit Times API, and using Ship API instead of the OpenShip API.

- * For 'Track only' solutions, only those marked with "*" are required.
-  For 'Rate only' solutions, only those marked with "" are required.
- ¹ FedEx International Connect (FIC) is a deferred international service, and part of our core e-commerce portfolio. This service requires a separate, specific integration and cannot be consumed via FedEx RESTful APIs.
- ² Shipment level special service types.
- ³ Package level special service types.
- ⁴ Commercial Invoice, Pro forma, Certificate of Origin. Please note that UK Domestic shipments to Northern Ireland require Customs Clearance Documentation (ETD).
- ⁵ Brazil and Chile only accounts in these countries can do domestic services.
- ⁶ For countries that do not accept electronic trade documents (ETD) shipments for import and/or export, the shipment will be labelled as EWO (electronic with originals). This means customs documents can be uploaded electronically but printed copies of those documents must be attached to the shipment to comply with regulatory requirements.
- ⁷ For support or to get access to the documentation, please contact FedEx via our European third-party support webform.” (fedexeurope.my.salesforce-sites.com/TPP).
- ⁸ The “goods not in free circulation” flag needs to be checked for intra-European shipments to Canary Islands, Helgoland, etc. See website of the European Commission for more information. (taxation-customs.ec.europa.eu/taxation/vat/vat-directive/how-does-vat-work/territorial-scope_en)
- ⁹ To ensure quality and readability of the barcode image, the minimum required label image types are: ZPL (Thermal Printer), PDF and PNG (Laser Printer).
- ¹⁰ Requires Consolidation API.
- ¹¹ Refer to the Additional Guidance document for more information about Customer Registration and Multi-Factor Authentication.
- ¹² Your application must comply with the requirements to display FedEx EULA to end users. Refer to the Additional Guidance document for the exact requirements.
- ¹³ FedEx 1Day, 2Day, 3Day, and First Overnight Freight are air freight versus surface/ground (Ship API versus Freight LTL API)
- ¹⁴ The Account registration API is mandatory when the end user must register their own account number. For example, anonymous functions in the Track API do not require end user account number registration.'
- ¹⁵ Allows classification of specific return shipment types as a temporary import or re-export, which may impact assesement of duties and taxes.
- ¹⁶ Ability to create Multi-Piece Shipments (MPS) and print labels without knowing the number of final pieces, before the shipment is closed. This feature is a contractual service limited to a select group of customers approved by FedEx only.
